

Lloyd Library & Museum News

At the Lloyd Library, we're all about access to our collections, exhibits and programs. We're partnering with the Cincinnati Association for the Blind and Visually Impaired to offer tactile artifacts as part of our current exhibition, Pharmacognosy Illustrated. For more information, call (513) 721-3707, email us or request items in person.

Posters for the Plant Blind: Fellowship Lecture

When: Friday, August 31, 6-8 p.m.
Where: Lloyd Library & Museum

Join us this Friday as Lloyd Fellows, Jonathan Frey & Anna Kell, speak on their design project and discuss Plant Blindness, the inability to see or recognize plants. Frey and Kell centered their project around the research and production of a series of posters that promote plant literacy through the visual qualities of plants. Free and open to the public. Lecture begins at 6:30 p.m. Reservations.

Out of the Stacks Opening Reception

Celebrate the opening of the Lloyd Library & Museum's FotoFocus exhibits, Out of the Stacks: Lloyd Inspired Artist Books and A Year on the Edge: A Photographic Narrative of the Edge of Appalachia Preserve.

Meet the photographers and artists behind these fascinating exhibits. Refreshments. Free and open to the public.

Pharmacognosy Illustrated Exhibit Featured in CityBeat

Judy George profiles our current Pharmacognosy Illustrated exhibit in the online and print editions of the weekly publication CityBeat. Highlights of the article include ancient Sumerian use of poppies, specimens of vintage medical equipment and how different plants became treatments for a variety of conditions.

Cincinnati Refined Spotlights Lloyd Library

Continuing the newsworthy trend, Phil Armstrong features the Lloyd Library in the online publication Cincinnati Refined. The piece provides a quick history and an overview, along with a gallery of over thirty stunning photographs.
