

Lloyd Library & Museum News

Cold weather is coming to the Lloyd Library's home of Cincinnati, and we're shifting our focus as well. At the Lloyd Library, wintry mix is a positive. Join us to explore apple forests, create holiday wreaths and discover some of our favorite books this fall and winter.

Next Week: Learn from Kazakhstan's Natural Communities

When: Wednesday, November 13, 7-8 p.m.
Where: Lloyd Library & Museum

Explore the historic origins of plant and animal communities in Kazakhstan, their medicinal uses and how they heal and build the soil. Permaculturist Chris Smyth will discuss how to apply these practices to build better gardens and forests here in the Ohio Valley. Free and open to the public. Reservations required.

Wreath Making Workshops in December

When: December 4 or December 5, 6-8 p.m.
Where: Lloyd Library & Museum

Usher in the holiday season by creating a unique wreath with botanical elements. This evening workshop has been so popular that we have added a second workshop to accommodate more people. Registration required. $50 registration fee includes materials and your take home wreath. Members of the Lloyd Library & Museum receive a $5 discount code. Limited seating.

Treasures of the Lloyd Opening Reception

When: December 6, 5:30-8 p.m.

Where: Lloyd Library & Museum

Celebrate the opening of the Lloyd Library & Museum's upcoming exhibition, Treasures of the Lloyd, featuring unique, rare and historically significant books and manuscripts from the Lloyd collections. Holiday cards and gifts available at the Lloyd Shop. Refreshments. Free and open to the public.

Sneak Peek at One of Our Favorite Books

In the early 1700s, Englishman Mark Catesby made a second trip to America, this time to collect and document nature. This mysterious naturalist spent the rest of his life creating his most famous work, The Natural History of Carolina, Florida, and the Bahama Islands, first published in 1731. You can view this oversize book in our upcoming Treasures of the Lloyd exhibition.
