

LLOYD

LIBRARY & MUSEUM

We are getting closer and closer to one of the most anticipated moments of 2021: the emergence of the Brood X cicadas! Whether or not you are ready, get the buzz on these timely critters this week at the Lloyd. From expert research to beautiful designs, we have you covered.

Emerging Cicadas at the Lloyd

When: April 28, 7-8 p.m.

Where: Virtual Lecture

As the Brood X cicadas prepare to emerge above the ground, leading cicada authority Dr. Gene Kritsky will explore what to expect with their return, how Brood X's emergences have contributed to the understanding of cicada biology, and how you can help map their emergence. Registration Required.

Cicadas: A Virtual Exhibition

The newest virtual exhibition opens online on April 26. This look into cicada life will allow viewers to delve into some of the earliest representations of cicadas in the Lloyd's collections (detail pictured from Insects, Their Ways and Means of Living by R.E. Snodgrass, 1930). Take a glimpse into the lives of those who studied them, including Thomas Moffet, a 16th-century physician, and August Johann Rösel von Rosenhof, the father of German entomology. In the meantime, check out our other digital exhibits here.

More Cicadas in Our Magazine

For more on cicadas and a wealth of feature articles, the latest edition of Lloydiana magazine is now available. Along with a spread on cicadas, readers will enjoy many more topics in this issue, from Mayan agriculture to local history. This full-color annual publication is a benefit of all levels of membership.

Help Research with Cicada Safari

Be a part of the effort to collect the most comprehensive data on cicadas for years to come. Using just your smartphone and the free Cicada Safari app, you can submit GPS tagged photographs to help determine the range of Brood X's emergence in 2021. Cicada Safari can be downloaded from the Apple app store or Google Play.

Listen to WVXU's Cicada podcast beginning April 27 with Gene Kritsky

917 Plum St.
Cincinnati, OH 45202
Open by Appointment Only
Hours: 9:00-4:00, Monday through Friday and 3rd Saturday of the month
www.lloydlibrary.org

Stay Connected

