

The Varro E. “Tip” Tyler Papers

(1926-2001)

Collection No. 18

Abstract

The Varro E. “Tip” Tyler Papers were donated after his death in 2001 by his widow, Virginia Tyler. The collection consists of Tyler’s publications in various forms (manuscripts, reprints, and original copies), some correspondence, and some personal/professional materials, such as curriculum vitae, bibliographies, clippings, and memorabilia. Tyler was active professionally, and this aspect of his life is covered both by the publications, as well as the materials on his conferences and speaking engagements. The bulk of the collection is subject files, predominantly on various medicinal plants/herbs, which literally run A—Z. The collection consists of approximately 50 linear feet, 98 boxes.

Biographical Sketch

Varro E. “Tip” Tyler was born December 19, 1926 in Auburn, Nebraska, the son of a lawyer who also enjoyed botany, an enjoyment and passion he passed on to his son. Tyler had a classical education and learned to love history, poetry (which he could recite from memory – this is how he won over his future wife, Virginia “Ginny” Tyler), travel, and books. His first job was at the local corner drug store at the age of 12. He attended the University of Nebraska and was in the same fraternity as Johnny Carson, who would become famous in late-night television. His studies were briefly interrupted with a term of service in the army, but Tyler eventually completed a Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy at Nebraska, and then followed his mentor and friend, Arthur E. Schwarting, to the University of Connecticut, where he completed his Ph.D. in Pharmacognosy. His first teaching position was as Associate Professor and Chairman of the Department of Pharmacognosy at the University of Nebraska. Lilly Distinguished Professor of Pharmacognosy, Emeritus, at Purdue University, Tyler died August 22, 2001, of a blood clot in the lungs, the morning after the Tyler’s return from their annual sojourn in Germany and Austria.
