

At the Lloyd, we value building partnerships with like-minded organizations. Whether it's in person or virtually, there are so many opportunities for paths to cross and new collaborations to emerge. Read on to learn about some of our recent and upcoming connections.

Lloyd Welcomes National Conferences

In early September, Cincinnati hosts not one but three national and international gatherings, all of which are kindred spirits to the Lloyd. The International Herb Symposium, American Herbal Products Association, and American Association for State and Local History plan to visit the Lloyd or host Lloyd staff as part of their programming. We're excited to welcome all three to the Lloyd!

New Issue of Lloydiana Coming Soon

The latest edition of our Lloydiana magazine is right around the corner! In this issue, explore African plants in the Atlantic world with our guest author and sit in on a Q&A with a historian. Discover the Cincinnati connection to 19th-century reform medicine along with a sneak peek at our future plans. This full-color annual publication is a benefit at all levels of donation and membership.

Instagram Takeover

Last week, the Lloyd took over the Instagram feed for the Society of Ohio Archivists, bringing our signature blend of history, art, and science to their social media page. Check out vintage photography, rare books, and unique views from our own collections alongside the work of other archivists in our home state.

New Items at the Lloyd Shop

New designs are here in the Lloyd Shop! Find t-shirts, tote bags, mugs (pictured), and more with wonderful illustrations from our collections. We also have fresh stock of some 19th-century fan favorites on our notecard rack, featuring the colorful mushrooms of Sarah Price and the majestic evergreens of Edward Ravenscroft. For the full selection of designs and merchandise, visit the Lloyd's Redbubble shop.
