

Get ready for a new exhibit and program schedule in August! Our opening reception for American Medicine at a Crossroads will kick things off on August 8, followed by an expert speaker on August 13. Learn more below and stay tuned for updates on more programming heading into fall!

American Medicine at a Crossroads Opening Reception

When: Friday, August 8, 5-7 p.m.
Where: Lloyd Library

Join us for the opening of our newest exhibition, American Medicine at a Crossroads, in conjunction with three national conferences here in Cincinnati. In the mid-nineteenth century, more evidence-based, scientifically sound practices emerged from inside and outside of the mainstream medical establishment. Through books, medical and pharmaceutical implements, and more, this exhibition explores early developments of American medical practice and highlights the movements that set the stage for modern medical science. Free and open to the public. Light refreshments.

Nature's Pharmacy: Exploring the Science Behind Traditional Herbal Medicine

When: Wednesday, August 13, 7-8 p.m.
Where: Lloyd Library

Discover how centuries-old herbal wisdom is shaping the future of medicine. Mladen Golubić, Medical Director of the Osher Center for Integrative Health at the University of Cincinnati, will explore the powerful intersection between traditional herbal practices and modern scientific research. Learn how natural remedies are being validated, and sometimes transformed, by rigorous laboratory and clinical investigation, and of challenges like the need for quality control, standardization, and the preservation of traditional knowledge. As we go to press, there are only a few seats remaining. Registration required.

Lloyd Hits Instagram Milestone

Our Instagram page has been a hit—and we have the numbers to prove it! The Lloyd just passed 12,000 followers on the visually engaging social media platform, which was no mean feat given the need to rebuild our following after the original page was hacked. This begonia image pictured is from L'illustration Horticole (1858) and has been our most popular Instagram image of the last two weeks.
