

Happy Independence Day on the eve of America's semiquincentennial! Summer is heating up, and so is demand for our programs. Our July programs are sold out but there are more on the way. Stay tuned for updates on programs in August and September in connection with our More-Than-Human Medicine exhibition.

Celebrating America's Anniversary

As we celebrate the 250th anniversary of American independence, it's worth noting that The Lloyd's collections go back to 1776 and even earlier, to 1493. Representing freedom, strength, and resilience, we share this bald eagle illustration from Mark Catesby's The Natural History of Carolina, Florida and the Bahama Islands (1731-1743).

Fungal Communication has Sold Out

The upcoming program with Gabrielle Cerberville has sold out! With the excitement around our exhibition More-Than-Human Medicine, the programs in this series have been filling up at a record pace. Did you know you can watch many of our past programs on our YouTube channel? Plus, find all of our upcoming events on our event calendar.

A Gift of The Garden

A generous gift from Mary Anne Thornton, who recently visited The Lloyd with the board of the Yew Dell Botanical Gardens in Louisville, created benefits far beyond our shelves. Her donation of a substantial run of The Garden, the journal of the Royal Horticultural Society, allowed us to strengthen our collections while sharing additional issues with the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. We're always pleased when a gift allows us not only to build our own collections, but also to support those of our peers.

The Lloyd will be closed Friday, July 3, in observance of
